Color Creations

My students need art supplies to bring the books they are reading to life.

My Students

My students crave knowledge. Learning with hands-on activities is more meaningful than reading about it in a textbook. For my students, being able to test and redesign a possible solution is a far better experience in the learning process.

| My students are very diverse.

Our school is located in a high property area of Las Vegas, Nevada. Being a magnet school, we like to take a different approach to the learning process. Giving students the opportunity to reach and answer by experimentations using the design process. Supplies like these kits will allow them to do just that.

My Project

Arts integration is a huge part of learning at our school. Students can express their interpretation of the books they read and create their own living set on how they see the book. Students will use the various paints and chalk markers to create their scene. The multi color tapes allow the kids to map out their ideas before constructing the sets. Students take their favorite characters and chapters and bring them to life.

Students create plays, puppet shows and festival games based on the books they have read, and allow the younger students to come by and view the finished products. The arts and reading go hand in hand. This creates a desire to read in the younger students, which in turn leads to a greater love and appreciation for reading.

Donations to this project are now being matched, thanks to support from An Anonymous Arts Funder. Every child should have access to essential art materials and experiences. An education in the arts makes children well-rounded, engaged, and active citizens of the world. This project has been supported in an effort to ensure that all students gain from the many benefits that arts education provides.
